Eleni Kyriacou debuts for s/s 2012

(Launches/Relaunches, Fashion)

London-based womenswear designer Eleni Kyriacou has launched her debut line for spring/summer 2012. Following an MA in Textile Design at Central Saint Martins, Eleni held apprenticeships at Alexander McQueen and Emilio de la Morena before launching her own label. Her debut collection draws inspiration from archaeology and photographs of archaeological sites in Athens. The line consists of contrasting textures, fabric layering, transparent materials and draping, and also includes metallic silks, foiled leather, suede and tulle to reference fragments and layers of buildings.
